"Never violate the law," exclaims a moralist orator. Well, then, let the umpire decide right.

The Republican party is 50 years old this year. Here's hoping for its funeral and not a golden jubilee!

North Carolina will again send two Kitchins to Congress. If Parker can't beat Roosevelt, North Carolina will furnish the means to cook his goose to a certain extent.

The negro is bound to have a chance at the Carnegie hero fund. In Indianapolis the other day a negro dropped a watermelon to keep a child from being run over by a trolley car.

An Ohio man asks the courts to dissolve the Standard Oil Company because it violates the anti-trust law. Somebody is liable to get greased if they fool with a thing like that.

Bandit Raisouli wants to come to America. Let him come. The people will help him to round up several subjects now ripe enough to be kidnapped and taken off in a crocus sack.

The Democratic National Convention will meet at St. Louis tomorrow. Watch the uninstructed North Carolina delegation have lively into the Parker band wagon. If Parker is elected, some politician will claim that it was against him till he put in the Parker blow.

Dr. Schurman, of Cornell, says "no man has a right to lead a single life." Before he exercises his right, however, he should consider that the girl has a right not to be starved to death and dressed so shabbily that she will merely crack open the door to talk tosomebody who has just rung the bell.

It has been decided by some tribunal that a married woman has the right to regulate the health of her home. She will also continue her privilege of making it "unhealthy" for the old man now and agin, even so as did Eve when she made Adam sick by giving him the apple that didn't agree with him.

A Georgia judge has decided that a wife has a right to deliver curtain lectures to her husband, on the ground that her well-being is involved as well as his, matrimony being a partnership. The judge is a married man, of course, and he knows he wouldn't get a night key if he didn't decide that way.

Says the Washington Post: "President Roosevelt is wise in refusing to promise not to be a Presidential candidate in 1908. No man can tell that far ahead what good impulse he might have then." Roosevelt is right. He might want two chances like Bryan, believing that the people did not know what they were doing when they elected Parker in 1904.

POLICE COURT YESTERDAY.

Saturday Night Offenders Spent the "Fourth" Before Mayor Springer.

The Mayor was in a lenient frame of mind yesterday according to the records of the police court. Usually no court is held on the fourth of July, but this year the holiday came so close upon the heels of a Saturday night that Mayor Springer thought that it would be wrong to keep the large number of prisoners locked up over a day and night without giving them benefit of a hearing. The leniency of his honor is shown from the fact that a large number of the offenders were let off with the costs when usually "five and costs" is the minimum.

Roland White and Emma Watters, colored, engaged in an affray at Fourth and Nixon streets Saturday night. The man being the aggressor, was fined $5 and costs while the woman was let off with only the costs.

Will Thomas, colored, for an affray in Strauss' alley, didn't have a very clean record and was given a straight sentence of 30 days on the roads, Lizzie Riley, colored, disorderly conduct, was let off with costs.

Thos. Daley, a white vagrant found begging at foot of Princess street by Policeman G. R. Holt yesterday morning, was given 24 hours to leave the city.

Jm Merrick, colored, disorderly conduct, was let off with the costs. Haman Blocker, colored, same offence, did not have any extenuating circumstances and was taxed $5 and costs and in default of payment of the same was sent to jail for a 32 day sentence on the county roads.

Sunday Seashore Arrivals.

Among Sunday's arrivals at the Seashore Hotel were Messrs. Willis G. Briggs, Raleigh Post, W. W. Robards, Raleigh; James M. Spruni, J. Douglass Manning, Dillon, S. C.; Gaston G. Lery, W. H. Edwards, J. P. Edwards, Harry Abrams, Rocky Mount; B. A. Southerland and wife, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Barringer, Florence, S. C.; H. P. Edwards, Sanford; E. Sternberger, Florence, S. C.; W. E. McDaniel, C. H. Morrow, Whiteville; L. S. Covington, Rockingham; Geo. K. McNeill, W. F. Bristow, Rowland; Howard Wiswall, Washington, N. C.; A. M. Brown, D. W. Devane, H. M. Brown, Red Springs; Miss Broadnax, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. J. C. Wilson and son, Miss Alline Tolbert, Will Broutherton and H. W. Tolbert, Atlanta, Ga. All told there are now over three hundred guests at the hotel.

Lockjaw After Twenty Years.

Rebecca Satterfield, a colored woman 48 years of age who lived at Seventh and Red Cross streets, died yesterday evening in the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where she was under treatment for tetanus, or lockjaw as the disease is known to the layman. Some 20 years ago the woman received an injury of the foot, which resulted in the formation of a fibrous tumor, which was incidental to the death. Recently the protrusion on the foot was injured in some way and tetanus set in. She was taken to the hospital where Drs. Akerman, Bell and Bellamy attended her. She died within less than 48 hours after being admitted to the institution.

Negroes Engaged in Affray.

"Dandy" Johnson, a colored hack driver, and Charles Gaston, also colored, were arrested by Policeman W. F. English late yesterday afternoon at Fourth and Hanover streets, charged with engaging in an affray. Johnson said he left home to go to the sound, but was unexpectedly called back and found Gaston at his house. Gaston had been forbidden to come there, and Johnson was not disposed to do the "Alphonse" act with him, so they hitched for a fight. It was in progress good fashioned when the officer arrived and troubled them to accompany him to the station house.

Celebration at Wilmington and Adjacent Resorts Was General, But Very Orderly.

REGATTA AT WRIGHTSVILLE.

Great Interest and a Fine Race—The Automobile Event and Others—Day at Carolina Beach, Lake Waccamaw and in the City.

The fourth of July celebration at Wilmington and adjacent resorts yesterday was elaborate but not overdone; patriotic and demonstrative but not boisterous. The crowds at the beaches and elsewhere were large but orderly. The transportation people say their records of several years were broken in the number of passengers handled and that people out for a good time were never more quiet. The day dawned clear and bright and the weather all day, though warm, was ideal for a holiday outing at the seashore, on the water or in the country.

The crowds began to move as early as 8 o'clock and kept it up until past midnight this morning. Not an arrest was made on either beach and not an accident of any kind is reported as the result of the day's adventures. It was the kind of fourth of July that leaves no unpleasant taste in the mouth the day after. The Consolidated people estimate that they carried between 3,500 and 4,000 persons to the beach during the day; Capt. Harper took between twelve and fifteen hundred to Carolina Beach on the steamer "Wilmington" and a number to Southport; the steamer "Compton" carried a large party to Southport and to sea; the Atlantic Coast Line special took between four and five hundred to Lake Waccamaw; the steamer "Sanders" carried a fishing excursion to deep-sea waters, while hundreds of others left town on the regular trains and in smaller boats. The city was well-nigh depopulated and but for the passing of the throngs, the holiday would have presented more the appearance of Sunday than a great American jubilee occasion. Stores and offices, for the most part were closed. 'Tis true flags were flying, ships in the harbor were very neatly decorated in National colors, and the occasional explosion of a cannon cracker was heard, but all told it was very quiet in Wilmington.

At Wrightsville Beach.

The Consolidated Company made a name for itself on account of the ease and safety with which it handled the multitudes that flocked to Wrightsville Beach. Every car and trailer owned by the company was pressed into service, and they moved from 6 A. M. to 1 o'clock this morning like clock work. A chartered train from the Atlantic Coast Line was run to and from the beach as an emergency measure, but few chose to ride on it as long as reasonable comfort could be found, as it might for most part of the day, on the trolley cars and trailers. Hundreds flocked to the Seashore Hotel and the club houses, while thousands went to the Casino pavilion. There was music and dancing there all day and night, the regular orchestra having been supplemented by the Delgado Band. At night there was a free moving-picture exhibit, a display of fireworks and many other attractions. Beach Policeman Wm. Sheehan was assisted during the day by Officers D. W. Willis, Leon George and others from Wilmington, but their services were little needed except for the moral effect of their presence.

The Yacht Races.

Of course, the chief attraction of the day at Wrightsville was the annual regatta of the Carolina Yacht Club. A light east wind prevailed at noon when the race started and all other conditions were favorable. The club pier, the sound water front and the board walks were thronged with men, women and children, anxious and enthusiastic. When the last of the white winged fleet had been dispatched and each with its human ballast was striving to gain the ascendency in the contest, cheer after cheer would go up as this or that favorite gave promise of winning. However, the first to finish the six-mile club course was the new and handsome craft of Capt. John VanB. Metts and Mr. E. A. Metts, while the "Kayembee," Capt. M. S. Willard, and another new boat, the "Don Julian," Capt. W. L. Parsley, took second and third prizes respectively. It was a beautiful race and exciting. There were eight entries, two of which did not finish the course. They left the club pier in the following order, with the handicap named and finished as given:

"O. N.," Capt. Richard Bradley; started 12:10:00; (didn't finish).
"Yonalee," Capt. P. W. Davis; started 12:11:08; finished 2:01:40.
"Sadie," Capt. S. P. Cowan; started 12:11:24; finished 1:55:46.
"Question," Capt. R. A. Parsley; started 12:11:31; finished 2:00:15.
"Puzzle," Capt. Jno. VanB. Metts; started 12:12:44; finished 1:48:18.
"Emma," Capt. C. W. Worth; started 12:14:16; (didn't finish).
"Kayembee," Capt. M. S. Willard; started 12:14:44; finished 1:53:18.
"Don Julian," Capt. W. L. Parsley; started 12:16:19; finished 1:54:09.

The yachts finished in the following order with the actual running time as given below:

"Puzzle"	1:35:34
"Kayembee"	1:38:34
"Don Julian"	1:37:50
"Sadie"	1:44:22
"Question"	1:48:34
"Yonalee"	1:50:32

The committee in charge of the regatta was composed of Capt. Wm. F. Robertson, Mr. George Davis and Mr. John B. Peschau, the last named being selected by the other two members of the committee in the absence of Mr. Burke Bridgers. Capt. Robertson acted as starter; Mr. S. M. Boatwright fired the signals and Mr. E. A. Metts acted as official measurer.

The committee, upon the conclusion of the race, figured up the handicap and announced the prizes as stated—the first with the club flag to Captain J. Van B. Metts, of the "Puzzle;" the second to Capt. M. S. Willard, of the "Kayembee" and the third to Capt. W. L. Parsley, of the "Don Julian." The prizes were presented at the club house by Dr. W. D. McMillan in a graceful speech, adverting to the fact in presenting the flag to Capt. Metts with the beautiful chafing dish set, complete, that with a single exception it was the oldest and most time-honored flag of its kind in the world. The second prize was a handsome imported China tankard, hand painted and decorated with American beauty roses. The third prize was a year's subscription to the popular yatching magazine, The Rudder.

The Automobile Races.

Next of interest in the public mind besides the yacht races, the functions in connection therewith and the ball at the Seashore Hotel at night, were the two automobile races. There were only two entries, the buckboard match having been called off for the reason that Mr. W. A. McGowan had no competitor. The start was from a point near the Atlantic Yacht Club, up the beach by the Seashore Hotel and back again over a course of a mile and three-quarters. Mr. McRee Hatch was the starter and the judges were Messrs. J. W. Jackson, Jr., and James Sinclair, of Waycross, Ga. In the first race Mr. Burke Bridgers' 40 H. P. Thomas car, driven by Mr. Bridgers, finished in three minutes, forty-nine and a half seconds against 3:44½ by Dr. A. H. Harriss' 20 H. P. Cadillac, driven by Mr. John E. Platt. In the second race the Thomas machine was driven by Mr. F. Herbst and finished in 3:33 against the Cadillac driven by Dr. Harriss in 4:05. Owing to the condition of the beach, the machines had to be run singly against time. The latter part of August there will be another meet and several new machines will enter.

At Lake Waccamaw,

Four hundred tickets were sold for the Atlantic Coast Line excursion to Lake Waccamaw yesterday, the train having left the Front street station well laden with passengers at 8 o'clock in the morning. The party left the Lake at 8 o'clock last night and got home shortly after 9 o'clock. The trip is said to have been very pleasant and without untoward incident. The fare for the round trip was only 75c. for adults and 50c. for children. After reaching Waccamaw with the crowd from Wilmington and intermediate points the train proceeded to Chadbourn and brought down a large party from that end of the line. Nineteen coaches, well laden with people, were unloaded at the Lake during the day and everybody seemed to have enjoyed the outing greatly. There was music and dancing in two pavilions the livelong day, while in the afternoon a match game of baseball between Boardman and Lake Waccamaw was played. The Boardman team, which was said to have been composed chiefly of professionals from South Carolina, won by a score of 9 to 3. Walter and Clyde Council composed the battery for the Lake team, and Hamer and Covington for the visiting club. Oscar Brinkley, of Wilmington, played with the Waccamaw team. There was very little disorder on the grounds, except the rather serious cutting of a negro named Sam Anthony by John Barfoot, a white man of the county, to whom the negro was insolent.

At Carolina Beach.

The celebration at Carolina Beach this year was in charge of the patriotic Junior Order of United American Mechanics, who had their third annual excursion to that popular resort. The crowd was the largest on record and was handled with "neatness and dispatch" by Capt. Harper on five trips of the steamer "Wilmington." There was not an untoward incident in connection with the celebration and everybody had a good time. The presence of Constable Savage, Justice Bornemann and several other officers of dignified mien was sufficient to command the peace, should there have been any disposition that way, but there was none. The Post Exchange Band of Fort Caswell furnished music in addition to the regular orchestra and there was dancing all day until 11 o'clock in the pavilion.

At the Gun Club Traps.

A large number of devotees of the sport spent the afternoon at the lodge of the Wilmington Gun Club, where a number of interesting matches were shot and some general practice indulged in. Some very fine scores were made but none of them was official.

Sunday School Excursion To-day.

The annual excursion of the Tabernacle Baptist Sunday school at Raleigh will arrive to-day from the Capitol City. A large crowd is expected as the fare from Raleigh is only $3 for the round trip. The train leaves Raleigh at 7 o'clock this morning and is scheduled to get here at 10:30 A. M. The cars will be taken straight through to Wrightsville Beach where the party will spend the day, returning at 8 o'clock to-night.

Colored Baseball To-day.

The "Wilmington Blues" and the Fayetteville colored team will play a game of baseball at Hilton Park this afternoon, beginning at 4:30 o'clock. The public is invited. The usual admission will be charged.

A dip in the ocean these hot afternoons is a pleasure beyond compare—car every half hour in the afternoon.

Sixth Annual Meeting of North Carolina Carriers' Association in Wilmington.

OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR.

Cordial Addresses of Welcome by Postmaster Wallace and Assistant Elliott—Meets Next in Charlotte. Seashore Pleasures, Etc.

The sixth annual meeting of the North Carolina Letter Carriers' Association was held yesterday, nearly every free delivery city in the State having been represented by delegates from the local associations. The business session was held in the early afternoon and the remainder of the day was devoted to pleasure, the visitors having been entertained last night at a fish supper at Wrightsville Beach by the local committee of reception. Trips down the river on the steamer "Wilmington" were also tendered the delegates. The chief feature of the business session was the election of officers for the e suing year, which resulted as follows:

President—F. E. Stafford, High Point.
Vice President—C. E. Alexander, Charlotte.
Secretary and Treasurer—James E. Hall, Wilmington.
Sergeant-at-Arms—D. I. Moore, Asheville.

Retiring President W. B. Stewart, of Greensboro, was elected delegate at large to the biennial convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers which will meet in Portland, Oregon, in September, 1905.

Charlotte was named as the place of the next annual meeting of the State Association on July 4th, 1905.

Addresses of welcome to the visitors were made by Postmaster T. E. Wallace and Assistant Postmaster W. G. Elliott, Jr., of the Wilmington office. The response was by Mr. W. F. Clarida of Greensboro. Mr. Clarida also made a very interesting report of the meeting of the National Association in Syracuse this year, he having been delegate at large from the North Carolina Association.

A congratulatory telegram was sent to the rural free delivery carriers of the State who also assembled, at Greensboro, yesterday for the purpose of forming a State organization. It was noted as a coincidence that six years ago on the same date the city carriers organized their State Association in the same city.

One of the interesting discussions was in regard to imperfect addressing of second class mail matter by many of the periodicals of large circulation in the north. It was pointed out that frequently the labels are turned upside down, cross ways and in almost every other way to vex the carrier bent on making a rapid and correct delivery. It was decided to memorialize the National Association to petition several of the leading publishers to correct the abuse. Representatives from all the cities reported much trouble from improperly addressed periodicals and packages.

The retiring officers of the Association are W. B. Stewart, Greensboro, president; J. F. Cunningham, Asheville, vice president, and W. L. Vest, of Winston, secretary and treasurer, all of whom were present except Vice President Cunningham.

The business session was held yesterday in the Hibernian Hall, and the visitors immediately upon the adjournment of the session betook themselves to the beaches. The trip was complimentary from the Wilmington local association. The committee in charge of the reception and entertainment of the visitors was composed of Messrs. William Sheehan, James E. Hall and W. G. A. Olersen. They did their work well.

Among the delegates in attendance upon the meeting were C. E. Alexander, of Charlotte; Fred E. Stafford, of High Point; W. L. Vest and A. Prempert, of Winston-Salem; W. B. Stewart and W. F. Clarida, of Greensboro; C. E. Echard, of Statesville; D. I. Moore, of Asheville; William Sheehan and A. B. Guyton, of Wilmington. Mr. Paul Dillingham, of Newbern, which city has no organization as yet, was invited to sit with the Association as an honorary guest. With the exception of Raleigh, Durham, Fayetteville and Newbern, all the cities in North Carolina now have membership in the Association. The annual report of retiring Secretary Vest showed the affairs of the Association in a healthy condition and indicated bright prospects for the future. The objects of the organization are mutual benefit, social intercourse and to assist the National Association in maintaining an organization for the benefit of all letter carriers. The delegates to the sixth annual meeting will begin leaving to day after what they pronounce a very enjoyable session. Mr Arthur Prempert, one of the most enthusiastic delegates and one of the most popular ones, will remain in the city for several days renewing acquaintances in his native city.

Ran From Hospital Surgeon

A negro giving his name as "Mack" approached a policeman down town last night and asked to be sent to the hospital for a bad gash between the thumb and forefinger, which was bleeding profusely. He said he received the gash in a row at Tenth and Market streets, but could give the police no information upon which they could act. The ambulance came for the negro and he was taken out to the hospital, but before the wound could be dressed he became frightened and ran away.

UNCLE JOE AND COUSIN JOHN.

In the July number of Leslie's Monthly Magazine, Adam Bede, the Minnesota Republican Congressman, known as the "Humorist of the House," contributes a unique sketch of Speaker Joseph G. Cannon and the Hon. John Sharp Williams, Democratic floor leader in the House.

Bede is a clever humorist and he writes out of a heart full of admiration for both Cannon and Williams, even if he does get funny at their expence. Among other things, he says of Speaker Cannon:

Born in North Carolina, of Quaker parentage, on the 7th of May, 1836, and bereft of his father when only fourteen years of age, Uncle Joe began browzing around in his youth and making overtures to the world for a meal ticket, which was never denied him. Following the course of Empire and the lines of least resistance, he went early to Indiana, and after a few years in the Hosier State, trecked on to Illinois, where his unique personality soon attracted the attention of his fellows and has slowly grown to the full and rounded measure of the nation. * *

A Tar Heel by birth, a Yankee by parentage, and a Westerner by adoption, familiar with farming, banking and public life, he knows an asset from a liability in business or politics, and is an all round American of the gentlest type—the uniquest thing that has happened in his day and generation. He is his own mascot. * * Humor drips from him, even as oil from Aaron's beard. But let it be known that there is not in Uncle Joe even a trace of eccentricity.

He is a cosmopolitan American with no provincial hatred of State, section or nation, for, like the Irishman, he holds that a man ought to love his native land whether he was born there or not, and he loves New England, while he also has a kindly feeling towards the Southern people, for many of his relatives, scattered throughout Dixie, have ever been identified with the South. He came over the border and got vaccinated before the war, or he might have been quarantined on the other side. Like Lincoln, he came from a Southern State to Indiana and then to Illinois to enter the practice of a lawyer. Like Lincoln, too, he knows not only a vested right but a vested wrong when he sees one, nor is it a too far cry from Uncle Abe to Uncle Joe. He believes in the people. He is safe.

Of Leader Williams, Mr. Bede says, among other things:

John is the link between the old and the new. He is a man of books, of travel and of education, but he wears no frills and is one of the plainest members of the House, for though a man of large family he has all the instincts and outward appearances of a literary Bohemian. He is as easy as an old shoe. * * Every member on both sides of the House like John Williams. * *

To analyze his popularity is not so easy. But it can be safely said that it is not his beauty which first attracts one, for his pulchritude is of the singed cat variety. Indeed I do not think him so beautiful as Uncle Joe. On this point there would hardly be enough dissenters in the House to demand the yeas and nays. * * There are many able and some brilliant men on the Democratic side, but none so well qualified in every way for leadership on the floor as John Williams. Then, too, he is widely read and illumines his remarks with side-lights that attract the attention of Republicans no less than of his own side of the House.

Never has a Repnblican Speaker possessed the good will of the opposition in the House as Uncle Joe has it to-day, and surely not since Mr. Carlisle's time has a Democratic leader on the floor had the Republican good will and admiration bestowed upon John Williams in the present Congress.

Leader Williams, by the way, comes of good old Carolina stock. His ancestors are Welsh, Scotch and English stock, and some of the family are yet residents of North and South Carolina, in which two States the Williams have always been prominent. Williamsburg county, South Carolina is named for a distinguished member of the family.

Amherst College having made Secretary Moody a LL. D., he may be classed as a double L of a fellow.

I TRIED Ely's Cream Balm and to all appearances am cured of catarrh. The terrible headaches from which I long suffered are gone.—W. J. Hitchcock, late Major U. S. Vol. and A. A. Gen., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Balm does not irritate or cause sneezing. Sold by druggists at 5c etc., or mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., New York.

NO REGARD FOR THE SOUTH.

The Republican party never did have any regard for the South, and in the platform on which Roosevelt is up for President it shows its Rough Rider teeth at us in a hateful way. This cuses us to suspect that the G. O. P. was in a hard row of stumps and had to lug in something sectional in order to keep us its record for winning success by stirring up strife. It is to be hoped that the "negro plank" in the Chicago platform will really result in putting it out of business.

Says the Philadelphia Record:

Reduction in the South's representation in Congress, as hinted by the Republican platform, would not help the negro, says the Charleston News and Courier. It "would not drive the white people of the South to further recognition of the negro's alleged political rights." No; but it would reduce the Democratic strength in the House of Representatives and perpetuate Republican power. But no action will be taken, or is even contemplated. When it was proposed in connection with the appointment under the last census, it did not secure the support of a corporal's guard among the Republicans, and the proposition in the platform is merely designed to catch the negro vote in the Northern States, in some of which it holds the balance of power.

So the sectional Republican party is willing to show its enemity to the South in order to get negro votes to elect a President of the Republic of George Washington and Thomas Jefferson? The Roosevelt party evidently doesn't ever expect a self-respecting Southerner to become a member of that party. McKinley's policy was about to make the Republican party an open port for Southern white men but Roosevelt, the bumptous, strenous and partisan Acting President, floated a negro plank out and "bottled up" the harbor. That keeps the South solid, for what true blue Southerner would want to run over a mine like that to get into a party that is not only sectional but infamous for its corruption and scandals.

Says the Augusta Chronicle: "Perhaps a competitive examination would show that few people in Georgia know what their State Constitution really is. If we had a new one, it would soon be tinkered with at Atlanta. But, let the people decide. We want the best Constitution going." If that is what you are bound to have, Editor Clark Howell will please forward the Atlanta Constitution to the Augusta address.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— Japanese soldiers carry with them a paper kettle, which costs 2 cents and can be used eight or ten times, in which water boils in ten minutes.

—— It is announced that Speaker Cannon has malaria. Not surprised. Recently he kept his mouth open for a long time in very bad atmosphere.—Richmond News-Leader.

—— The devil is never as black as he's painted; but he's still black enough to deceive the best of the saints on a dark night.—Atlanta Constitution.

—— The Republican party is now thoroughly Jim Crowed. The whites will do the office-holding, and the negroes can go the polls and vote for the whites.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

—— For the first time in their history the Republicans have nominated a New York man for President, and the New York leaders are so enthusiastic that they don't say a word.—New York World.

—— The monument in Battleground National Cemetery, in the District of Columbia, commemorating the battle fought on that spot forty years ago, will be unveiled July 12. It is located on the spot where Lincoln stood in that day of peril to the national capital.

—— German tool manufacturers are clamoring for protection. They have urged the Imperial Government to prevent the further inroads of American manufacturers upon their special branches. In the first quarter of this year the German importation of tools more than doubled. But if American tool manufacturers can meet foreign competition in Germany, where the local manufacturers already have protection, they can certainly hold their own home market against foreign competition.—Philadelphia Record.

Rufus Choate Was Beaten.

As one of the very few occasions when the wit of Rufus Choate was foiled an incident is recalled when that brilliant lawyer was examining one Dick Barton, chief mate of the ship Challenge. Choate had cross examined him for over an hour, hurling questions with the speed of a rapid fire gun.

"Was there a moon that night?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you see it?"

"No, sir."

"Then how did you know there was a moon?"

"The 'Nautical Almanac' said so, and I'll believe that sooner than any lawyer in the world."

"Be civil, sir. And now tell me in what latitude and longitude you crossed the equator."

"Ah, you are joking."

"No, sir. I am in earnest, and I desire an answer."

"That's more than I can give."

"Indeed. You a chief mate and unable to answer so simple a question!"

"Yes, the simplest question I ever was asked. I thought even a fool of a lawyer knew there's no latitude at the equator."—Success.

Snake Killing Cats of Cairo.

A native woman living in old Cairo was entering her house when, to her great terror, she perceived a snake of formidable dimensions, which had taken possession of the hearth during the woman's absence. The woman fled, leaving the door open. Her cat then appeared on the scene, entered, saw the cobra, put up its back and tail, spat and otherwise manifested its hostility and in turn went out. A few minutes afterward it returned in company with a second cat. After a similar exhibition both went out and returned with a third, and similarly went away, returning finally with a fourth. Considering that sufficient force had been recruited to kill the snake, the four at once fell on the reptile, and after a short but fierce struggle the latter was literally torn to pieces.—Egyptian Gazette.

— Discussing the tariff, the Newbern Journal says: When the American farmer must pay a higher price for farm implements, purchased of the American manufacturer next door to him, than does the South American or the Australian farmer, who competes with him in selling products in the world's markets, it does not merely look like rank injustice to the American consumer and producer, but it places the Agricultural Manufacturing Trust as an enemy to this country assisting the foreign farmer at the expense of the American farmer, and receiving a bounty from the government, in the shape of an unnecessary tariff for the treachery.

— Late Saturday afternoon Scotland county was visited by another severe hail storm, and from what can be learned equally as much damage was done by this as by the storm of some weeks ago. This storm passed through the neighborhood around and below Gibson and the area covered embraced some of the choicest farming lands in the county. Where the cotton was knee high before the hail there are only stems from two to three inches high left. Pine trees are completely peeled on the sides exposed to the hail. It is impossible to give an accurate estimate of the damage with present information. Telephone lines are all down. The hail was accompained by a severe wind and rain storm. In one instance the hail fell with such force that the occupants of a house did not discover that two trees had been blown down on it until after the storm.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

An Out of Door Academy Where John C. Calhoun Was Educated.

The education of John C. Calhoun is described by Mr. G. M. Pinckney as wholly remarkable. Before he was fourteen years old he had read Rollin's ancient history and Locke's essays, besides many other abstruse works. At this age his mother took him away from books and set him to hunting and fishing and out of door sports. No more is heard of books until five years later, when it was decided that young Calhoun must attend a seminary.

The academy which his mother selected was that established near Calhoun's home by Dr. Waddel. The boys boarded at farmhouses in the neighborhood or lived in log huts in the woods near the academy and furnished their own supplies. At sunrise Dr. Waddel was wont to wind his horn, and horns answered from several boarding houses. At an early hour the pupils made their appearance at the log cabin schoolhouse.

After prayers the pupils, each with a chair bearing his name carved in the back of it, retired to the woods for study. The classes were divided into squads, according to individual preference. In the spring and summer months these squads scattered through the oak and hickory woods in search of shade, but in cold weather the first thing they did was to kindle log heap fires.

Whosoever imagines that the boys did not study as well as they would have done under the immediate eye of the teacher is mistaken. Nowhere could there be greater assiduity in study, nowhere greater emulation and eagerness to succeed.

Quaint Sayings of Children.

The late Frederic R. Coudert, the New York lawyer and wit, had a great fondness for children. He collected indefatigably the quaint sayings of children, and one of the treasures of his library was a small manuscript volume filled with definitions that children had composed. This volume was called a "child's dictionary," and these are some of the definitions that Mr. Coudert would read from it:

"Dust — Mud with the juice squeezed out of it.

"Snoring—Letting off sleep.

"Apples—The bubbles that apple trees blow.

"Backbiter—A mosquito.

"Fan—A thing to brush the warm off with.

"Ice—Water that went to sleep in the cold."

The Boy and the Bee.

A little boy once caught a little bee.

"What will you do with me?" asked the bee.

"I will put you in a box and keep you in my house," said the boy.

"That will be cruel," replied the bee.

"Oh, no, that will be fun!" said the boy.

"How would you like to be caught and kept in a cage?" asked the bee.

"Jolly well," answered the boy.

"Well, then, I'll tell you what I will do," said the bee. "If you will let me go I will get my big brother to come here and get you and put you in a cage and see how you would like it."

The boy agreed, and away flew the bee.

Very soon the little boy saw a mammoth bee coming toward him,

FASTER AND FASTER THE BOY RAN.

and his heart began to sink. It did not seem to be such a good thing to be imprisoned after all, and he decided to try to get away.

Turning on his heels, he ran as fast as his little legs would carry him, with the big bee right behind him.

Faster and faster the boy ran, and faster and faster the bee flew. When the boy found that he could run no farther he gave a loud scream and—well, what do you think? He woke up, for this whole story was a dream.

"I might have known that," said he to himself, "for that little bee would have stung me when I first caught it. But I shall never ill treat any dumb creature." — Farm and Ranch.

CONDENSED STORIES.

The Origin of a Witticism at the Expense of "the Watchdog."

That history repeats itself was brought out in the senate debate last winter on breeding stations, when Senator Bailey, Democrat, of Texas alluded to Speaker Reed's bonmot at the expense of Judge Holman of Indiana, "the watchdog of the treasury." Mr. Bailey said the wittiest and bitterest thing Reed ever said was when an appropriation that came very near Holman's home was up and the old judge was remarkably silent about it and Reed said, "The watchdog never barks at home folks."

"That was said," interrupted Senator Hoar, "in 1869 or 1870, when I first came into the house."

Mr. Bailey was sure the remark had been made later, while he was himself a member of the house, which was many years after Mr. Hoar went over to the senate. The Texas senator appealed to Senator Lodge, who was a member of the house at the time. Lodge nodded his head to confirm Bailey's story.

Then Senator Hoar arose and said the witticism originated when E. B. Washburn was a member of the house. He, too, was a "watchdog." He had not objected to a bill passed by his brother, Cadwallader, who was a member at the same time from Wisconsin. "Some one," said Mr. Hoar, "asked the speaker, James G. Blaine, if the representative from Illinois had objected. 'No,' said Mr. Blaine; "the watchdog does not bark when one of the family passes by.'"

All He Could Carry.

John Kernell, the noted Irish comedian, liked in his prime to go back to Ireland, whence he would often bring material, gathered in alehouses and on the highroads, that afterward served him well in dialogue upon the stage.

Kernell once said at a little supper party in Boston that he had met on a summer day in Galway an Irishman driving a horse so thin that it staggered as it walked.

"Why don't you put more flesh on that nag?" Kernell exclaimed indignantly.

"More, is it?" the Irishman answered. "Why, by the powers, don't you see that the poor creature can hardly carry what little there is on him now?"—Colorado Springs Gazette.

Placing Him.

A friend of H. C. Frick, the Pittsburg millionaire, was discussing his tastes and mannerisms. He said:

"Mr. Frick loves dearly a good, strong sermon, and in an equal degree he hates a sermon that is carelessly composed and insincere. Sitting beside him in church one day, I got a good manifestation of this latter trait of his.

"The minister was talking about a foreign divine who had died, but his mind didn't seem to be fixed on his subject very firmly. He wandered on and on in a wordy way, like this:

"'What place, my brethren, shall we assign to the deceased? Was he the greatest of the apostles? Ah, no; for that place belongs to St. Peter. Was he the greatest of saints? No; for that place belongs to St. Augustine. Was he the greatest of philanthropists? No; for in philanthropy St. Francis excelled him. Then, I repeat, what place'—

"'Oh, give him my place and get on,' I heard Mr. Frick mutter to himself, with an impatient frown."

Didn't Always Leak.

On a very rainy day an American in London got into an omnibus. Very soon he noticed that drops of water were pattering down upon his head from the roof. At that moment the conductor entered to collect the fares. "What's the matter with the roof?" said the damp passenger. "Does it do this always?" "No, sir," replied the conductor, "only when it rains."

A Provident Mind.

He—I think I'll go and speak to your father at once. He can't do more than kick me out.

She—It seems a pity to risk it, dear, in that good suit.—Life.

Unfavorable Conditions For Study.

"Hazel came over tonight to study with me," explained Dorothy.

"And did you do much studying?"

"Well, we would have if there hadn't been so much to talk about."—Chicago Post.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Charles Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood; but, when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained fifty-eight pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store.

Dr. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK WOMEN.

Woman's Wish.

Mrs. Housekeep—My husband has been complaining a good deal of late because his dinner has not been served on time.

Mrs. Clubb—Gracious! I wish mine would.

Mrs. Housekeep—You do?

Mrs. Clubb—Yes; because he'd have to come home earlier to do it.—Philadelphia Press.

Lack of Judgment.

"Was you really plannin' to run away with the hired girl?" asked the old farmer disgustedly.

"That's what I was thinkin' of doin'," admitted his son.

"Ain't you got any sense at all?" demanded the old man. "Don't you know that hired girls is harder to get than daughters-in-law?"—Chicago Post.

A Bright Thought.

"Yes, ma'am," said the obsequious grocery clerk to Mrs. Bridey, who was ordering her first bill of supplies, "I've put down parlor matches. What next?"

"Well—er—I suppose I ought to have some kitchen matches, too, oughtn't I?"—Detroit Free Press.

The Good Fellow.

"He's what I call a good fellow."

"At home or at the club?"—Exchange.

Shrinking modesty is an attractive trait of character, but it seldom gets a raise of salary.—Somerville Journal.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equalled. Joe Golobick, of Colusa, Cal., writes: "For fifteen years I endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me, though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters, and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." It's just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist.

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ—which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

TUESDAY MORNING JULY 5.

THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

Met to Decide Contests for Seats on Temporary Roll Call—Referred to a Sub-Committee for Report.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. LOUIS, July 4.—The national committee met to-day to decide the contests for seats on the temporary roll call and to transact matters of routine business.

It was the general opinion before the meeting that there would be a warm fight, particularly on the Illinois contest, as it was known that William J. Bryan who has made the quarrel of the Harrison and Hearst people in that State against John P. Hopkins, a matter of his own, had secured the proxy of James C. Dahlman, the national committeeman from Nebraska, and was to enter the meeting to make fight for his friends. John P. Hopkins was also a member of the committee by virtue of his proxy through Thomas Gahan, of Illinois, who is not in attendance at the convention.

The promising prospects for a fight were promptly realized when once the committee was in session. A motion backed by the Harrison and Hearst people providing that all the contests for seats under the temporary roll call should be referred to a sub-committee later in the day, precipitated the crisis. It is well known that Chairman James K. Jones, of the national committee, is not a friend of John P. Hopkins, and the Harrison and Hearst factions hoped that in naming the committee to decide the contest in Illinois he would name men friendly to them and opposed to Mr. Hopkins.

Mr. Bryan rose in his seat and made a strong argument for the appointment of a sub-committee by the convention, and John Hopkins fought his own fight by asking that all the contests be heard and decided by the committee as a whole. On the vote the Harrison and Hearst factions showed the greater strength and it was decided by a vote of 29 to 16 that the chairman should name the sub-committees.

The Harrison and Hearst people were jubilant after the adjournment of the committee, saying that they had scored a success in the first round of the fight, and were confident that they were started in the path that led straight to permanent seats in the convention.

John P. Hopkins, on the other hand, was not cast down, but predicted that he would not only win out on the temporary roll call but would occupy the permanent seats in the convention. In the first part of this opinion at least he was supported by a number of the members of the committee who had voted against his plea to have the contests settled by the national committee as a whole.

The committee reconvened at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and Chairman Jones announced the sub-committees, which listened to the evidence in the contests.

The sub-committees went into session immediately following the adjournment of the national committee, which will meet again to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, at which time the sub committees will report.

PARKER MEN ARE CONFIDENT.

Looking for a Running Mate for Their Candidate and for People Who Have Uninstructed Vote to Deliver.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. LOUIS, July 3.—New Yorkers, and, of course, New York means Parker, are so confident to-night that their candidate is to be nominated that they are talking over with leaders of delegations from other States the question of a running mate, and to all delegations that have a candidate for the place are giving assurances of their distinguished esteem. Former Senator Hill, William F. Sheehan, former Senator Murphy and State Senator McCarren held a levee all the afternoon and to-night, and are so extremely confident that they are not paying any attention to the arrival of the leaders of the Tammany delegation. Senator McCarren said, significantly, this evening:

"We are looking for people who have uninstructed votes to deliver. The Tammany votes will be cast by ex-Senator Murphy, who votes New York State under the unit rule, and he will cast them for Parker, who will be nominated, perhaps, on the first ballot, and surely on the second."

Two things were stated definitely at Senator Hill's headquarters to-night: First, that no platform has been drawn for Judge Parker to stand on and that even a rough draft will not be forthcoming until Wednesday; and, second, that Judge Parker, as a candidate, will readily stand upon any platform that a majority of the convention agrees upon. This last statement is significant, because it is thoroughly well known that he would not stand on a radical platform. It is, therefore, evident that the Parker supporters are already assured that the convention will not agree to even a suggestion of radicalism as suggested by Bryan and Hearst supporters; but, indeed, will strongly tend in an entirely different direction, particularly on the financial and tariff planks.

NEARLY 700 PERSONS LOST THEIR LIVES.

By Sinking of the Scandinavian-American Liner Norge Off the Coast of Scotland.

EN ROUTE TO NEW YORK.

Of the 800 People on Board Only 120 Were Saved—The Vessel Smashed on a Rocky Reef and Sunk in Twelve Minutes.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, July 3.—Over 700 Danish and Norwegian emigrants bound for New York are believed to have been drowned in the North Atlantic on June 28. Out of nearly 800 souls on board the Danish steamer Norge, which left Copenhagen June 22, only 27 are known to be alive and for the rest no hope is held out.

When last seen the Norge was sinking where she struck on the Islet of Rockall, whose isolated peak raises itself from a deadly Atlantic reef, some 290 miles off the West coast of Scotland. Early on the morning of last Thursday the Norge, which was out of her course in heavy weather, ran onto the Rockall reef. The Norge was quickly backed off but the heavy seas poured in through a rent in her bows.

The Norge quickly began to go down by the head. Eight boats were lowered and into these the women and children were hurriedly put. Six of these boats smashed against the side of the Norge and their helpless inmates were caught up by the heavy seas. Two boat loads got away safely from the side of the sinking ship and many of the emigrants who were left on board seizing life belts, threw themselves into the sea and were drowned. Capt. Gundel, so say the survivors, stood on the bridge of the doomed vessel until it could be seen no more.

GRIMSBY, ENG., July 4.—A lone pile of granite, rising sheer out of the Atlantic 290 miles from the Scottish mainland is now a monument to almost 700 dead, whose bodies wash against the rocks or lie on the ocean bed at its base. Near by, completely hidden in the water, is the Scandinavian-American liner Norge, which was carrying eight hundred Danes, Norwegians, Swedes and Finns to join relatives or friends in America. Of these only about 120 were saved.

Three boats it is known successfully reached the sea. The passengers frantically pulled away from the doomed ship, passing by poor wretches who were still afloat and who vainly begged to be taken on board, while from the ship came along, despairing cries. The women in the boat which reached Grimsby hid their eyes, but the men who were facing the Norge say they saw the captain still on the bridge and the passengers on deck in attitudes of resignation. While they looked the Norge plunged forward, her stern shot up in the air and she disappeared. The swimmers in the vicinity of the ship were drawn into the vortex, around which they swirled like ships in the maelstrom.

But twelve minutes elapsed from the time the ship struck until she sunk. A fine Scotch mist which was falling at the time shut out the other survivors from the view of those who were brought to Grimsby. The latter, so soon as their boat was clear of the scene of the wreck, devoted themselves to thoughts of their own safety. A jacket was tied to an oar which was in turn fastened in the bow of the boat and a sailor, a Dane, took charge of the boat. Men and women were put to work keeping the boat afloat, as a hole had been stove in her bow when it was lowered from the ship. An examination of the water cask showed that it did not contain a drop of water. There were some biscuits, however, and these were eaten by the ship-wrecked people.

More Survivors.

STORNWAY, SCOTLAND, July 4.—One hundred and two survivors of the Danish steamer Nrge have been landed here. The British steamer Cervonia, from Leith, July 1, for Montreal, brought in thirty-two shortly before noon. She picked them up from a boat yesterday evening, westward of the Butt of Lewis. They were in a woeful plight, nearly all of them being naked. One dead child was in the party.

Shortly afterwards German steamer Engere arrived with seventy persons including Captain Gundell rescued from the Norge's life-boat. They were terribly exhausted. The survivors say that all together, four of the Norge's boats got away. One boat, therefore, is unaccounted for.

The majority of the 26 who were landed at Grimsley have arrived at Liverpool and from there they will sail on the Cunard Line steamer Saxonia which leaves to-morrow for Boston.

Vessels are searching in the vicinity of Rockall for any more survivors.

The horrors of the wreck itself grow with each survivor's account. Captain Gundel's statement, which reads like an affidavit from the dead, for he went down with his ship, maintains that the Norge struck on a sunken rock 18 miles south of Rockall. The 102 survivors are spending the night at Stornway, many of them in the hospital.

HOSTILE ARMIES STOP OPERATIONS.

Both Combatants Awaiting Better Weather. Reoccupied Their Old Positions—Japs Nonplussed at Gen. Kuropatkin

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LIAO YANG, July 3.—(delayed in transmission)—Seeing the impossibility of bringing about a decisive battle, in consequence of the retirement of the Japanese and the heavy rains, General Kuropatkin, accompanied by the military attaches, is returning to Hai-Cheng. Both combatants are apparently inactive. The Japanese have retired to a dry sandy part of the country to await better weather. The Russians have reoccupied their old positions, thirty miles eastward of Liao Yang. The two armies are now bivouacked on either side of Dalin pass, which cannot be said to be an effective occupation for either army, as the deep mud renders impossible the movement of transport wagons and guns. No battle of any consequence has been fought there since the Russians retired from Dalin pass before the Japanese advance.

The Russian troops are displaying splendid spirit in spite of terrible hardships. There is not a dry spot for them to camp on and the troops often are obliged to pass twelve hours in the rain before they can prepare soup with which to warm themselves, owing to the difficulty experienced in kindling fires.

Kuropatkin's Tactics.

LIAO YANG, July 4.—The Japanese are evidently nonplussed at General Kuropatkin's tactics, as proved by their alternate advance on Liao Yang from Feng Wang Cheng and subsequent retreat. The Japanese were suffering greatly from lack of supplies, the country being devastated. Two divisions are reported to have fallen back on Feng Wang Cheng.

The Japanese activity in the south is also suspended, General Kuroki being threatened by the Russian troops from the north. An early cessation of hostilities is expected and when they are resumed the Russians say they will be able to take the offensive. Troops are arriving here daily.

Forces Are Stationary.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 4, 7 P. M.—The latest dispatches from the seat of war are to the effect that General Kuropatkin is still at Ta Tche Kiao and that the Japanese forces are stationary at Senu Chen and along the roads from Siu Yen to Hai Cheng, Ta Tche Kiao and Kai Chou, but they are maintaining their advance from Feng Wang Cheng over the direct roads to Liao Yang, where the effect of the rains is less appreciable. There are only twelve miles between General Count Keller's force and the Japanese army and a collision between them is not regarded as unlikely. The Japanese evidently are hoping in case of success to compel Kuropatkin with Gen. Stakelberger's corps to fall back from Ta Tche Kiao Yang and thus force an evacuation of New Chwang.

The admiralty here has no news of the sea fight off Port Arthur on Monday last reported by Admiral Togo and is not inclined to believe it. The understanding is that the Russian warships are still at Port Arthur.

Atrocities in The Field.

TOKIO, July 4, 11 A. M.—General Oku forwarded a detailed report to imperial headquarters, answering charges preferred by the Russian authorities that the Japanese troops were responsible for atrocities committed on the field during the engagement at Wa Fang Tien preceding the battle of Vafangow (Telissu). He says the charges are totally unfounded, but, on the contrary, that he had proofs that the wounded Russian prisoners highly appreciated the humane treatment they and their comrades had received from the Japanese. It is the Russians, he declared, that have cruelly mutilated the Japanese who fell into their hands wounded. General Oku then makes the following charges:

"That on June 15th, six Japanese scouts were overpowered by Russian troopers who ran bayonets in their mouths, in their heads and cut their breasts open; that on June 27th, the Russians captured a Japanese cavalryman whom they bayoneted and then cut his abdomen open. On May 15th, the Russians beheaded a Japanese cavalryman whom they had captured.

"General Oku asserts that acts of cruelty on the part of the Russian troops are numerous, and announces his purpose to report in the future every case of it which is brought to his notice. He says that he feels that he is not fighting a civilized army."

A COMPROMISE PLATFORM.

North Carolina Delegation Want a Platform on Which All Democrats Can Stand Regardless of the Past.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. LOUIS, July 4.—That Senator Carmack, of Tennessee, shall second the nomination of Judge Parker has been decided upon. The Tennessee delegation has appointed a special campaign committee to work for the nomination of Senator Carmack for the vice presidency.

Sentiment among those of the North Carolina delegation who have arrived on the scene is strongly in favor of a "compromise" platform. The North Carolinians say they want a platform on which all Democrats can stand, regardless of past alignments. The delegation is not instructed, but Parker sentiment strongly predominates.

The invitation to Senator Carmack to second Judge Parker's nomination came in a letter from William F. Sheehan, of New York, who stated that Connecticut would be asked to yield to Tennessee for this purpose.

J. M. Head, national committeeman from Tennessee, will be asked by the Tennesseeans to place Senator Carmack in nomination for the vice presidency.

TROUBLE IN MOROCCO.

Crisis in Affairs at Tangier—Feared Lives of Europeans Will be Sacrificed.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, July 5.—The Tangier correspondent of the "Daily Mail," under date of July 4th, says:

French officials here admit that the crisis was never more critical. Fighting occurs daily in this vicinity. Raisuli is only two hours from Tangier and is collecting men. Yesterday he attacked three villages and looted their cattle.

The town guards are helpless. When the outbreak comes there will be an appalling sacrifice of European life to the fanaticism of the Moors.

The Sultan has cut down the soldiers' pay by one-half and the disaffected soldiers are deserting and joining the "freebooting bands."

The big pier at Ocean View, on the Chesapeake Bay, seven miles from Norfolk, Va., took fire last night and burned to the water's edge during a display of fire-works. Several hundred men, women and children were on the structure at the time, and a panic ensued, but no one was seriously injured.

THE DEMOCRATIC NAT'L CONVENTION.

Most of the State Delegations Had Arrived in St. Louis Up to Last Evening.

PARKER'S STRENGTH GROWS.

The Pennsylvania Delegation Decide to Give a Solid Vote for Him—The Chances for Other Candidates Look Rather Slim.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. LOUIS, July 4.—Parker on the second ballot—perhaps on the first. That is to-night the claim of the men who are in charge of the political affairs of the New York candidate. All day long the Parker opponents have tried to perfect the programme which would prolong the balloting and afford an opportunity to name another candidate, but apparently they have not succeeded. Many combinations have been suggested, but so far they have proven incapable of being assembled into a shape sufficiently substantial to show the independent and uninstructed delegates how another candidate can be named. Men who are supposed to hold the balance of power have asked the Parker opponents to say what would be done after Parker had been put out of the race, but to-night they say they have received no satisfactory answer.

Gorman, Gray and Cleveland have been suggested, but no one is prepared to give assurances that either could receive the nomination. The mention of Cleveland has a tendency in some quarters to solidify the Parker strength for many delegates say they do not want to take the slightest chance of allowing Cleveland a fourth nomination.

While there is a very friendly feeling for Gorman among the Southern delegates including those who are under instructions or bound by the unit rule to vote for Parker, yet the predominant expression from this element is that the effort now making in the behalf of the Maryland senator is too late.

They also point to the fact that when delegates were being chosen Gorman gave no sign that he desired the nomination. It is too much to expect, they say, that delegates who were chosen as Parker men, whether under instructions or not, will desert him now or as long as there is a possibility of securing his nomination.

The opposition to Judge Parker in its efforts to tighten the lines and make sure of holding the delegations now counted as opposed to him, have brought out two new candidates in the persons of former Governor Pattison of Pennsylvania, and General Miles.

The opposition leaders appreciate to the utmost the difficulty of preventing a stampede to Parker should his lead become pronounced, but they are counting upon doing this by appealing to the local pride of the different favorite sons delegations to hold on as long as possible.

No announcement was given out from Senator Gorman to-night and Mr. Vandiver, who had stated early in the day that he expected a communication, said to-night that he had received none. Mr. Gorman's position as a conditional candidate has, however, become so well known that no formal statement from him is necessary. His friends still expect to press his candidacy if Parker fails of success, and in the meantime they will do all they can to bring about such a situation.

The wisdom of casting the votes known to be for Gorman for other candidates has been canvassed and this course practically decided upon. It is not yet absolutely determined just what aspirant will be thus complimented, but the choice lies between Pattison and Cockrell. The votes absolutely under Mr. Gorman's control are those of Maryland, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

The men who are talking about Judge Gray are met with the question where are the votes to be secured to nominate him?

The delegates with favorite sons as yet manifest an unwillingness to enter into combinations and in the interest of their own candidates they do not desire to antagonize Parker.

If by any chance there is a deadlock they all hope to secure votes from the Parker column in the break-up. Nor are the favorite sons delegations such as can be transferred. In several cases Parker is the second choice of the delegates. This is notably so of the votes instructed for Hearst. It is not believed that the editor candidate could control them for any other candidate, while it is evident that quite a large number from the Northwest are ready to vote for Parker on the second ballot.

The effect that the day has passed without bringing to the fore any figure around which the anti-Parker element seems able to rally has taken a great deal of life out of the situation. While the contest over the platform and the second place on the ticket afford a great deal of interest when fought out in the convention itself, the majority of the delegates and those who come to see a convention and shout for their favorites are almost wholly interested in the head of the ticket. The result is that an air of apathy pervades the lobbies and other places where the rank and file assemble.

A real contest on the platform is assured. No one yet knows what the platform will be but it is known that the majority draft will prove unsatisfactory to Bryan and his followers and there are enough of them to make an interesting fight on the floor of the convention. The developments to-day before the national committee, also indicate that the Bryan men will be in evidence when the credentials committee reports.

Mr. Bryan was engaged during the day with callers, many of them representing aspirants for the presidential nomination. He discussed the situation with all of them, but committed himself to none. Among his visitors were some members of the North Carolina delegation who insisted that Mr. Bryan should state in definite terms whether it was his purpose to bolt the ticket if it should not be to his liking. He only replied that he would answer that question when the ticket was named.

The selection by the committee of John Sharp Williams for temporary chairman seems to give general satisfaction. No determination has been reached as to who will be the permanent chairman, but several men have been suggested and possibly all will be considered by the committee on permanent organization before a selection is made.

Headquarters were established to day at the St. Nicholas in the interests of Judge Gray, of Delaware. The members of the Delaware delegation then visited different State headquarters and urged the advantage of nominating their man. It was said that the New Jersey delegation was favorable to Judge Gray, if Cleveland is not to be brought forward. Senator Tillman hopes to bring the South Carolina delegation over to Gray, although a majority of them have expressed a preference for Parker, which under the unit rule, would carry the delegation to the New Yorker. The candidacy of Judge Gray is being encouraged by Parker opponents who hope that Gray will get some of the Parker votes.

It is estimated that most of the delegations have arrived. A number of these have brought marching clubs, but the day has not been propitious for parading. The rainy afternoon discouraged many of the marchers, while the small boy, prone to explode his fireworks in the ranks of the clubs, made others timid. The Kings County Democracy, of Brooklyn, to the number of about 200 got out in the interest of Parker and headed by a local band the club paraded down town streets.

During the day a number of Judson Harmon's supporters, from Ohio, arrived and established headquarters at the Jefferson. They say that thirty-five members of the delegation are for him.

Stampede to Parker.

What is considered the beginning of a stampede to Parker took place to-night in the action of the Pennsylvania delegation, in adopting by a vote of 57 to 5 a resolution instructing the chairman of the delegation to cast Pennsylvania's 68 votes in the convention for Judge Alton B. Parker. This vote was the result of the first ballot in the caucus of the delegation. It followed a spirited nominating speech by Chas. P. Donnelly, chairman of the Democratic city committee of Philadelphia. There was no opposition to Parker in the way of speech making.

The Hearst People.

The Hearst people remained buoyant during the day and at his headquarters his managers said that all the delegates that were instructed and pledged would stand firm and vote for Hearst to the last. They were assured by John P. Hopkins, of the Illinois delegation, that Hearst would receive the solid vote of Illinois as long as he was in the field. A large amount of Hearst literature was distributed among the delegates to day, showing what he had done for reform and for the party.

FOURTH OF JULY RIOT.

Georgia Negroes in a Row—One Man Killed and a Number of Others Injured—Some Seriously.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

AUGUSTA, GA., July 4.—A special to the "Chronicle" from Sharon, Ga., says:

At 4 o'clock this afternoon at Hillman, where thousands of negroes assemble every fourth of July, a riot was begun by two negroes, Ed. Hillier and Handy Seales. Marshal Sturdevant tried to quiet them when several other negroes interfered, causing a general riot. Guns, pistols, knives and sticks were used freely. Newton Harris was shot through the stomach and killed outright. His brother, Ned Harris, was cut across the head and seriously injured. Ed. Hillier was shot in the arm but not seriously, and an old woman was shot in the face with a shot gun, seriously. Lucius A. Moore, near whose residence the row began, interfered in an effort to quiet the mob. He received some small shot from a gun over the heart, but was not seriously wounded. Bob Howell was shot in the back and face and seriously hurt. Bob Moore was seriously cut on the neck, and several others received small wounds that are not serious. The negroes fled for their lives in every direction soon afterwards and quiet was established. The wounded were brought to Sharon at once where they received medical aid.
